

Faculty of Economics and Management

Department of Finance and Banking

Purpose of the department

The main purpose of the Department of Finance and Banking is to prepare holders of Bachelor's degrees with the necessary knowledge demanded in the private sector and government organizations. The field of education, research and other academic activities carried out by academic staff both at the regional and international level allow students to monitor developments in the field of banking and finance and possess analytical tools. Graduates of our department mostly employed in sectors related with financial management, banking and taxation.

Employment perspective

Graduates of the department have opportunities to work as financial auditors, auditors of Accounting Chambers, inspectors in various financial institutions, tax office employees, financial departments of municipal government organizations and companies, consulting firms, controlling and supervisory bodies at banks and securities markets, and in financial assets and risk management areas.

Department of Economics

Purpose of the department

The main purpose of the department is to prepare qualified specialists with contemporary knowledge of economic analysis and management, which are demanded by the governmental and private sector. With deep theoretical knowledge and practice skills graduates of the department represent qualified specialist able to work at international level: Kyrgyzstan, Turkey as well as in other Central Asian Countries.

Employment Prospective

Our graduates have a wide range of opportunities to work as specialists and managers in public organizations and institutions, such as the Central Bank, the Treasury, Ministry of Finance, Ministry of Commerce, State Planning Organization, State Institute of Statistics, the stock exchange, capital markets etc. Graduates also have employment opportunities in the private sector as insurers, bankers, financial advisors, experts in the field of investment and finance, auditors, financial analysts and accountants. They can also follow academic career in universities and research institutions.

Department of Management

Purpose of the department

The management department aims to provide the students with a necessary knowledge and skills giving them opportunity to take positions as professional managers and business owners. The management department provides the necessary knowledge in the field and current trends, skills for problem solving and decision-making, thinking scientifically, the ability to manage knowledge and to undertake research, and use of information technology skillfully. The management department prepares researches and projects taking into account the needs of various businesses, both attends and hosts academic and professional activities.

Employment Prospective

Graduates of management have a wide range of employment opportunities, especially in organizations in the private sector, in large and small enterprises which engage their activities in all sectors of the economy; as skilled specialists and managers in accounting departments, departments of finance, and marketing and human resources. In addition, they have the opportunity to work as researchers and scientists in various government organizations, research institutions and universities.

Department of the International Relations

Purpose of the department

The purpose of the Department of International Relations is to prepare young generations for the future to do research, improve qualities to have an inquisitive and analytical mind, form identity with respect human values. We also aim to raise future leaders for an ever-changing world and who will contribute primarily to the development of Kyrgyzstan and Turkey as well as other countries of Central Asia, by creating, exchanging and implementing information in accordance with the common vision of the Kyrgyz-Turkish Manas University.

Employment prospective

In the Department of International Relations, in accordance with the above objectives, students are trained in International relations, political science as well as economics and law, and engage in intensive language training courses of Turkish, English, Chinese or Russian. Upon completion the program, graduates find opportunities to work not only in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, but also to work in various international organizations, private and public organizations, and universities.