

Faculty of Fine Arts

Department of graphics

Purpose of the department

The purpose of this department is to prepare specialists who have knowledge of a variety of computer graphics in accordance with the needs of industry. In addition, another important objective of the department is to prepare teaching staff that will be able to meet the needs of specialists in the fields of computer graphics, not only in Kyrgyzstan and Turkey, but also the whole world, and to ensure the educational process and consistency.

Employment prospective

Graduates of the Department of computer graphics have opportunities to work in advertising agencies as graphic designers and art consultants, in printing as designers and managers, in online publications as web-designers and designers of online advertising, as animators in training centers of film, at radio and television stations as graphic designers and art consultants in the relevant sections of advertising and marketing companies. In addition, graduates of this branch who received a special certificate giving them the right to carry out teaching activities, have the opportunity to find a job as art teachers in secondary schools under the ministry of education and science. Graphic designers who play an important role in the creation of all kinds of visual information and communication have a wide range of work opportunities in almost every sector.

Department of painting

Purpose of the department

The purpose of the department is to identify the situation art today in order to educate qualified painters who can improve art. In addition, the department strives to increase the number of painters who can analyze cultural values and create their own creative art works. During their 4 years of education, students can obtain the skills which are needed to improve their creative thoughts and conduct research that comment in useful ways.

Employment prospective

Graduates of the department of painting in the faculty of arts in painting become specialists in their fields due to the subjects in in which they have been taught for four years. They will have an opportunity to work in educational institutions as teachers of painting and art. After fulfilling an academic career in the field of arts, they have the possibilities to continue a career in higher education as academic staff. Graduates with expertise in painting, teaching drawing, 3D design, computer design, creating illustrations for books and publishing, can establish private studios and give appropriate lessons. In addition, they can participate in artistic activities at national and international events, can open solo exhibitions and take part in joint exhibitions.